

Volunteers are the lifeblood of our organisation

The Society is held together by our many dedicated volunteers, including:- our Management Committee, various Sub-Committees, Appointed Positions, our team of Library Assistants, and many others working quietly behind the scenes.

Without the ongoing assistance of all of our Volunteers, the services and facilities provided to our members and the public, would be much poorer.

There are many opportunities for members to assist in the smooth running of FHWA, and help ensuring that we continue to provide our products and services.
